WOLGAST WINS FROM GILBERT

Young Gilbert Knocked Out in Sixth Round by Ad Wolgast After Being Sent to Floor Three Times.

Ad Wolgast won from Young Gilbert by a knockout in the sixth round of their scheduled twenty-round bout last night at the Auditorium. Wolgast, former lightweight champion, was the master of the local boy, Gilbert having the best of only one thing—the choice of dressing rooms. The knockout blow was a left to the jaw. Gilbert, three times sent to the floor, was out the last time thirty seconds.

Wolgast's manager, Larny Lichenstein said after the bout that he would lay claim to the championship of the world this month.

Claims Championship. "We have challenged Freddie Welsh and he will not make the weight. He is willing to come to terms at 140 pounds ringside, but will not make 133. Since he can not make the limit, and since Wolgast has come back, I firmly believe I am entitled to the championship. I only wish Freddie could make 133, as Wolgast can beat him or any other lightweight in the world today."

As for the fight last night there is little to be said other than that the match was one-sided from the start. Gilbert was unable to plant his pile driver and although he showed the courage of a lion he was unable to avoid taking the count. The blows Ad administered, although far from the most powerful he could land, were sufficient to make any man take the count.

When Gilbert drew his right back to the ropes on the far side of the ring to start his haymaker, Ad would click him on the chin, spinning him around. After he had done so several times, he let him land on his head, but took pains to see he landed on nothing softer than an elbow.

Summary in Brief. When the first round started, it looked as if Gilbert might have a chance. He appeared in great condition and came at the former champion with blood in his eye. The former champion smiled and strode around the ring as if he were complete master of the situation and he blocked Gilbert's long swings with his right, landing at will with his left. The two started infighting in which Gilbert came out with a bleeding lip. Wolgast shot right and left to Gilbert's stomach, but Gilbert only smiled. It was easily Wolgast's round.

The second round produced the same results, although Wolgast opened up. Gilbert rushed him to the ropes, but was unable to hit anything but Wolgast's elbows. Ad pelting him with right fists to the jaw. In a clinch, Wolgast showered several on Gilbert's jaw, doubling him up with a left to the stomach and tattooed his kidneys with a right via the overland route. Gilbert looked strong, but as if he was in the wrong environment.

The third round brought Wolgast out with his fighting smile. Gilbert drew back his right for his famous transcontinental poke, and Wolgast spun him around with right stiff to the chin. As he returned to position, Wolgast lambasted him several more and then played tag with the local champion's kidneys. Gilbert smiled and swung several hard, but wild ones, which hit whither the former champion wanted, which was usually on his elbow.

The fourth round brought the champion out of his corner with alacrity. Gilbert appeared to be somewhat fuddled. He again drew back for his right, but Wolgast stung a left to the jaw. Gilbert going to the far side of the ring, Gilbert took several more long random swings and Wolgast landed in the stomach, which again doubled Gilbert up. As Gilbert straightened up he let fly a hard one at Wolgast's shoulder, which caused the champion to turn around to his manager as much as to ask: "Shall I finish him here?" Gilbert rushed Wolgast to the ropes, getting one blow to Wolgast's ribs, which was the only blow of life size that Gilbert landed in the bout. Wolgast spun a grogger in the direction of Gilbert's chin and Gilbert clinched. As Gilbert broke from the clinch Wolgast sent a left to the jaw. Gilbert staggered back and Wolgast shot a left to the cheek. Gilbert going to the floor for the count of one. No more damage was done in this round.

The fifth saw Wolgast on Gilbert

RALPH SPOTTS, NEW YORK TRAP-SHOOTER, WINS BELT AND MAKES NEW RECORD

Ralph Spotts.

Ralph Spotts, of the New York Athletic club and amateur trap-shooter, champion in 1914, retained his title this season and established a new record in the events recently held at the club's Travers Island traps. Spotts made 196 out of 200 targets, which beats the 191 made in 1915 by George L. Lyon. In 1914 Spotts won the amateur title with a record of 188 targets.

all the time. He took turns hitting him on the chin and his two kidneys. He chased the local pride to a corner and Gilbert raised his guard. Wolgast took a little time to knock Gilbert's guard down by smashing the protecting fists into Gilbert's own physiognomy. When Gilbert lowered his guard, Ad shot a straight to the chin and Gilbert went to the floor, but got up quickly.

The sixth saw the finish. Ad swung a left to Gilbert's chin and the local champion lay flat for the count of six. When he got up Ad took no chances and shot a right to Gilbert's kidneys which he followed up a second later with a left to Pat's chin. Pat went down in a heap and Painter counted ten, at the end of which Captain Burbridge of the police force ordered the bout stopped. Gilbert came to in his dressing room and the fans left well satisfied with the gameness of the local find, but feeling as if he must have been overmatched.

UTES LOSE TO PORTLANDERS

Salt Lake, May 18.—The score: Portland 12, Salt Lake 10. The batteries: Portland—Houck, Higginbotham and Fisher. Salt Lake—Warhop, Chabek, Pittery and Hannah.

Probable batteries for today's game: Salt Lake—Hall and Vann. Portland—Noyes and Fisher.

The Utes lost a loosely played game to Portland yesterday. It was a contest marked by weird performance. The runs, hits and errors piled up so fast that it was difficult and far from interesting to try to keep track of them. It was one continuous merry-go-round, and if there was anything in the baseball misplaying code that was overlooked the oversight must have been unintentional, for everybody seemed determined to make a farce out of the matinee.
